At Sharad Institute of Technology College of Engineering, Yadav, we are committed to nurturing well-rounded and industry-ready professionals. As part of our continuous efforts to enhance student's skills beyond the academic curriculum, various training programs, workshops, and expert sessions are regularly organized.

These initiatives aim to bridge the gap between theoretical learning and practical application by focusing on technical knowledge, communication skills, aptitude, and personality development. Through such programs, students gain exposure to industry standards, develop problem-solving abilities, and become better prepared for future professional opportunities.

This report highlights the details of the recently conducted training session, including its objectives, structure, content, student participation, and key outcomes.
